DEMO BOSSES IN CONFERENCE FOR CAMPAIGN UNITY

Chiefs of Party Meet With Davis to Thresh Out
Party Problems

DAVIS TO REST

Sectional Campaigns Planned
To Divide Work on Demo Fight

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 18.—Campaign organization plans formed the subject of a long conference today between John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for the presidency, and a number of party leaders. These included Thomas Taggart of Indiana, George E. Brennan of Illinois, Norman E. Mack of New York and Clem L. Shaver of West Virginia who is understood to have been selected as campaign manager.

It is anticipated that the announcement of the personnel of the organization will be made before Mr. Davis leaves this evening for Islesboro, Maine, where he is to spend a week or 10 days in rest and recreation and in preparing his formal address of acceptance of the nomination.

As now outlined the campaign organization will consist of a central board of strategy with field forces in various sections of the country. Under the general direction of Mr. Shaver who conducted the nominee's pre-convention campaign, it will lay plans for the formal notification ceremonies at Clarksburg early next month.

The second campaign contribution was found by the nominee today in his mail. It was a dime from Harold Spear, a 12-year-old boy of Asbury Park, N. J. H. read:

"Enclosed find my contribution to your campaign. It is all I can afford."

Mr. Davis sent a personal note of thanks to the youngster.

FOREST FIRES AGAIN RAGING IN NORTHWEST

(By the Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—The forest fire situation, regarded as improved throughout the Pacific coast yesterday, rapidly became worse last night. There were two serious fires in California and one in Montana. The California fires were new and one in the Siskiyou country also said to be threatening the town of McCloud and an appeal was sent to nearby towns for aid in fighting it. Tourists, campers and citizens of Denismuir were organized shortly after midnight to fight a fire near that town which became serious last night.

A fire in the Kanskui national forest in Montana jumped a river and forced 200 men fighting it to beat a hasty retreat late yesterday. The fire now covers several thousand acres and weather conditions remain serious. In northern Idaho and eastern Washington no settlements were endangered today.

Boys Bible School Shows Increase in Attendance Today

The Boys Bible school stretched out for a new record this morning when 143 Ada boys answered roll call. The attendance this morning was a slight increase over yesterday's record. Since the organization of the school the mark has fallen under a hundred but once.

RAILMEN GROOMING LA FOLLETTE NOW

Railway Conductors Endorse
Candidacy of Wisconsin
Senator

CEDAR RAPIDS, La., July 18.—The board of directors of the Order of Railway Conductors has formally endorsed the candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette for the presidency, according to a statement given out today by President L. E. Sheppard.

The vote was almost unanimous, he said.

"While an individual can do as he pleases," Mr. Sheppard said, "I believe the great majority of the membership of our order will support Mr. LaFollette."

For the vice presidency the board members are favorable to Senator Howell of Nebraska, Dill of Washington, Shipstead of Minnesota, Wheeler of Montana, Representatives Huddleston of Alabama or W. S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Engineers, Mr. Sheppard said.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Confronted with the task of perfecting a national campaign organization and to select a vice-presidential candidate, more than a score of Senator La Follette's chief supporters gathered here today for a serious conference.

Today's meeting was the outgrowth of the convention two weeks ago in Cleveland of the Conference of Progressive Political Action which after endorsing the Wisconsin senator as an independent candidate for president, left the selection of his running mate to the national committee made up for the most part of representatives of labor and farm organizations.

REBELS GETTING TOP HAND IN BRAZIL WAR

(By the Associated Press)

BUENOS AIRES, July 18.—Trustworthy information received here from Brazil early today indicated that the rebels are getting the upper hand in the fighting around Sao Paulo. It is stated that the federal government proposed to initiate "decisive measures" but the "military chiefs do not entertain a hope for definite action."

It is pointed out that the rebels have at their command the resources of the wealthiest state in the country where large manufacturing plants are located, included arms and ammunition factories which are now running day and night. The de facto government in power is said to have the support of practically the entire population of more than 500,000 and is functioning in an orderly manner.

Anarchy's Shadow Hovers Over Italy as Mussolini's End Nears

By Jackson V. Jacobs,
Central Press Correspondent

PARIS, July 18.—Three years ago Italy had a choice between Mussolini and anarchy. Today Mussolini's iron hand is shaky, and Italy no longer has a choice; and anarchy remains.

Observers see Mussolini sitting on a volcano. The volcano is the lawless body which, while it did save Italy for the moment, is the antithesis of civilized methods of government. It is known as Fascism. Its foundation is force.

The volcano has given its warning. The sombre humble came forth with the disappearance, and probable assassination of the wealthy Socialist Deputy Matteotti, on the eve of his expected exposure of corruption in the Fascist ministry.

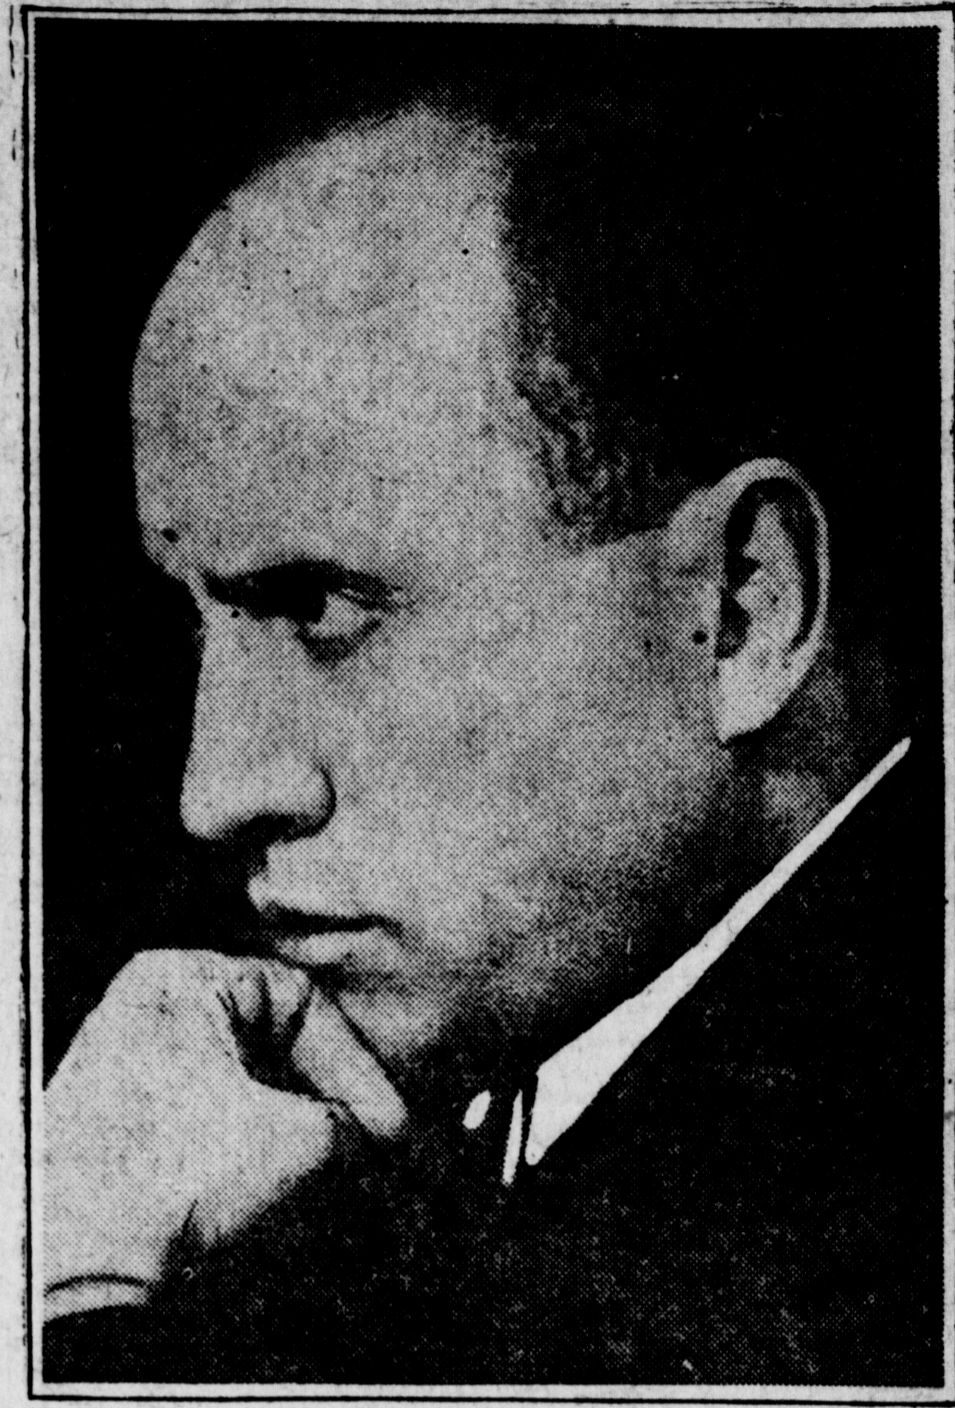

The Matteotti case has Italy's nerves on edge.

Mussolini promptly expressed his indignation at the deed, but his expressions were unconvincing in view of previous statements such as this:

"There is nothing to discuss on the subject of internal policy. That which happens, happens by my explicit orders, for which I naturally assume the full and personal responsibility. And those who attempt to defame Fascism abroad or undermine it at home, should know that their deeds imply the severest risks. The enemies of the Fascist state need not be surprised if I treat them sternly as such." He made the statement a year ago.

Mussolini cannot leave his throne on the volcano. He must wait to be blown off. He is bound up with Fascism. He cannot govern without the Fascist and their methods. He cannot disband the irregular Fascist militia which up to the present have been his personal army, without any formally expressed allegiance to the crown. The militia won't let him.

He says he will bring his party back to legality—acknowledgement that it has burst beyond those bounds. But Europe is wondering if he is big enough to do so, or if he unwillingly will be projected on a crest of lawlessness to greater power or to oblivion.

More than one student of the situation believes the latter is what will happen.

Too Warm in Jail, Charley Asks Freedom

Charles Winchester doesn't like our county jail.

"It's too hot in that chicken coop," he tells Judge Tal Crawford when asking for a sixty-day leave of absence before he starts serving time of sixty days on a charge of something about whiskey.

Winchester enjoyed roaming about over the shady valleys of Pontotoc county before his bondsman turned marble-hearted and turned him back to the channels of justice to pay in servitude to the county for his illicit relations with festive brew for which he drew a count from justice court to depend on the later action of district court.

Winchester's fate was soon decided after his return to the county jail Sunday. He appeared before Judge Crawford twenty-four hours after being turned in and was sentenced for sixty days in the county jail.

After serving a few hours in the county hoosow, he decided that it was entirely too warm to endure and sought immediate relief from Judge Crawford but the judge prevailed on him to linger a while.

CHARITY SUBJECT HERE ENDS THIRTY-ONE YEARS OF LONE EXISTENCE ON HOSPITAL COT

Thirty-one years of wandering ended with death, the stolid wall of finality, carrying the last weary foot step to a lonely cot in an Oklahoma City hospital early this week.

But Henry Keen, the wanderer found death pleasant for it ended his tramp over every state south and west from old Virginia where he fled from an asylum 31 years ago and the timely words of comfort and love from his family at the old homestead from which he had been taken 37 years ago brought the curtain of death across his lonely years of travel without a wish of regret.

Henry Keen was 72 years of age when he dropped into the office of the Red Cross secretary, Mrs. Orville Snead, on June 16 and flopped exhausted, sick and tired on a waiting chair and asked the alms of the organization to stimulate the fading vitality of a sick man.

"My home is where my hat is," bluntly granted the aged traveler when Mrs. Snead asked of his home, family ties and other particulars of his life.

But Mrs. Snead was not satisfied with this dismissal and urged him to divulge the secrets of his locked past. Bent with age and tired of the ceaseless tread life had demanded him, he revealed a story that ripped off years of elusive existence in Texas and Oklahoma.

Henry Keen, a young man, was forced to leave school and manage an old homestead near Gladys, Virginia, at the death of his parents took charge of two sisters to raise to womanhood. Keen married a few years later and brought his wife to the old homestead but soon dissension came in and an effort was made to sell the homestead that

COURTS ALL IDLE WITH VIOLATORS NOT PRESENT

Gray Pleads for Oil Production Curtailement Now

(By the Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Texas, July 18.—A plea for curtailment of oil production in the Midcontinent area was made by W. H. Gray of Tulsa, president of the National Association of Independent oil producers, in an address here yesterday.

At present there are 471,000,000 barrels of oil above ground, he declared, or a surplus of 217,000,000 barrels. He said there were 1,723,000,000 gallons of gasoline in storage. By the storage system producers were losing 20,000,000 of oil and gasoline annually through evaporation, Mr. Gray asserted.

NEW HOSPITALS FOR SICK VETS

Seven New Hospitals Soon to Be Opened Over United States

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Steps taken by the Veterans Bureau to hospitalize the sick of the World War will be considerably advanced when the seven new tuberculosis and neuro-psychiatric hospitals or additions, just completed at a cost of many thousands of dollars, are ready for opening. Four more hospitals and many new additions are in the course of construction.

The hospitals and supplementary units just completed were built by the construction division of the army quartermaster corps, the navy bureau of yards and docks, treasury supervising architects and the Veterans Bureau, and will provide approximately 2,600 beds for tubercular and neuro-psychiatric patients. Under the newly enacted Reed-Johnson veterans' relief act, extending the prior to Jan. 1, 1925, many former service men are expected to be treated in the new institutions.

The hospitals just completed are: Chillicothe, O., 452-bed neuro-psychiatric, built by the war department.

Knoxville, Iowa, 456-bed neuro-psychiatric addition, constructed by war department.

Northampton, Mass., 462-bed neuro-psychiatric, built by the navy.

Tupper Lake, N. Y., 353-bed tuberculosis, built by the navy.

Little Rock, Ark., 203-bed addition for neuro-psychiatric patients, built by the Veterans Bureau.

More than 1,300 additional beds will be made available for sick veterans with the completion of the following institutions:

Camp Custer, Mich., 527-bed neuro-psychiatric, completion estimated around August 15.

St. Cloud, Minn., 262-bed neuro-psychiatric, August 15.

Livermore, Cal., 268-bed tuberculosis, 10 percent ahead on contract with calls for completion March 15, 1925.

Contract recently was let for a 250-bed tuberculosis hospital at Aspinwall, Pa., and work is expected to begin soon. All of the hospitals and additions recently built or building are of modern, fireproof construction.

Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture, has asked an opinion from George Short, attorney general, on the status of the $4,000 appropriated by the last legislature for crop exhibit purposes. ## Still Fishing at 101

CLARION, Pa., July 18.—Clarion county assessors usually list men of advanced age as "invalids" but when William Kratzor, of St. Petersburg, aged 101, was granted a fishing license the assessor decided a change in the man's status was necessary. Kratzor is now listed as a "retired gentleman". The assessor ruled that a man of 101 years who could fish was not an invalid.

BILLIONS ADDED TO WHEAT VALUE THROUGH TRADING

Speculative Value of 1924
Wheat Crop Increased
By Fortunes

REACHES HIGH MARK

Poor Prospects Places Corn
And Hogs on Lofty Peak
This Year

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 18.—Unwieldy of a billion dollars has been added to the speculative value of 1924 grain crops of the United States and the Canadian Northwest in recent weeks as the result of the 30 cents a bushel increase in wheat prices in the United States and 42 cents jump in Canada pushing crop prices to new records for this year.

Speculative trading on the board of trade here Wednesday reached the highest peak since May 1923, aggregating more than 110,000,000 bushels of grain of which 69,000,000 was wheat for future delivery. Six weeks ago trading was not more than 20,000,000 bushels per day.

With the advance of wheat prices flour also has taken an ascent. Prices listed 20 cents per barrel higher yesterday, bringing it to $8 for the best known brands of Minneapolis patents and making a gain of $1.20 per barrel since July 1.

The poor prospect for a corn crop will promise a yield of 2,515,000,000 bushels July 1, the smallest with the two exceptions in many years, is considered responsible for the high prices prevailing for the grain. Hogs have also shared in the upward movement, touching $8.10 yesterday, the highest price since last October, and more than $1.00 increase lately.

The speculative grain markets are regarded by grain men as somewhat strained and some extremely rapid changes are looked for.

The increase is expected to add $500,000,000 to the bank accounts of the nation's farmers.

ADA LEFT DUSTY AS RAIN CLOUDS HOVER

After rain clouds lingered playfully in this vicinity for several hours Thursday night while hopeful citizens of Ada waited for a cool, refreshing shower that would add to the comfort and prosperity of the populace, the city was left dry and dusty and rain was considered a matter of remote speculation.

Although Ada and Pontotoc county received no moisture benefits from the clouded sky, other vicinities in this section of the state were more fortunate and were favored by a helpful rainfall.

Reports from Oklahoma City and Sulphur indicated that rainfall in those sections were sufficient to meet the immediate needs of the crops.

Farmers of the county report that the crops are in need now of a general rainfall, which would mean the making of the years crop.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

TAKE NO THOUGHT saying, what shall we eat? or, what shall we drink? or, wherewithal shall we be clothed? But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness: and all these things shall be added unto you.—Mathew. 6:31, 33.

Does the fact that a man has made a success in his business or profession disqualify him from holding a public office? Does the fact that a man by marked ability which makes him sought after by firms who must have highly competent men make such a man a crook who could not be trusted in office? Does it mean that with the coming of success a man loses all patriotism and seeks the life blood of all around him? The action of the American people in selecting public officials answers the above questions in the affirmative, so far as the opinion of the public is concerned. The result is that offices great and small alike, are too often filled by men who are incapable of giving good service, even though they may be honest so far as actually stealing anything is concerned. We have seen men cast their votes for men whom they would never for a minute consider employing in their own private business, influenced by prejudice or sentiment that would have no weight when it came to selecting men for private business. In private business a man wants efficiency and does not bother much about anything else, but when it comes to dealing with public business, which is everybody's business, it is a different matter. The public has much to learn yet but there is little prospect of its varying from its past and present happy go lucky way of doing things.

The Panama Canal is justifying all that was hoped for it by its ardent supporters. The tonnage passing through it is now greater than that passing through the Suez canal and it is paying a handsome profit. It was Uncle Sam's biggest undertaking but his engineers conquered that which had baffled others and the big ditch was dug. The greatest lesson in sanitation was learned here. Before the United States government took over the job disease had carried away thousands of lives. When the Panama railroad was built the mortality was so great that it was declared that a life had been lost among the laborers for every tie put down. This may have been an exaggeration, but the loss was heavy enough. The medical corps of the army cleaned up everything in sight, exterminated the mosquitoes, screened the houses, provided pure water and took other needed measures and the isthmus lost its terrors. It is now as healthful a section as one could easily find.

The army around the world fliers are now recuperating in England while their machines are being overhauled for the voyage across the Atlantic. The flight should not consume a great deal of time, but a few stops will be made at such places as the Orkney islands, Iceland and Greenland. Once back on American soil it will not take long to cross the continent and finish the trip by landing on the exact spot whence they departed some months ago. In view of this performance it makes one smile at the demonstrations of fifteen years ago given by men who claimed to be well posted, to prove that the airplane was only a dream or at best just dangerous, impractical toy. Times have changed since the Wrights flew a few hundred yards on Kill Devil island off the Carolina coast or when Bleriot was acclaimed a hero when he crossed the English channel.

If the Canadian bridge near Tyrola is opened for traffic by September 1, as is now hoped, a celebration will be in order. The river will have lost its power to sever north and south traffic and from the first the enterprise should be a paying one. Ada needs closer connection with the oil fields of Hughes and Seminole counties for one thing and then it will make travel to Okmulgee, Tulsa and other points in North-eastern Oklahoma much easier as it will cut off many miles now necessary to reach a bridge. Of course it is to be regretted that it is not a county-owned bridge free of tolls, but since that was out of the question the toll bridge was the next best thing. The chances are that the two counties will eventually buy the bridge, but this may be sometime in the future.

When a fellow is inclined to be rather chesty and to wonder how the world ever got along without him, he is about ready for a demonstration of the fact that he is not very badly needed after all. Men have come and men have gone but the old world moves along in the same old way. Nature does not exhaust herself in producing a big man occasionally and then stopping. Some one is always ready to step into the shoes of even the most important of men.

The long lane of depression has turned at last and wheat farmers are now in a fair way to take a joy ride on Prosperity avenue. Cotton is also holding up well and present indications are that if a crop is made the cotton men will join the wheat men in a big celebration this fall.

REVISING HIS COPY

OIL NEWS

The Bowles and Smith well in section 34-5-6 is making around 75 barrels of oil daily. It was necessary to close down the pump until new tankage could be completed. At that the well flowed several times a day. It is generally considered the well will settle down to a steady production of from 50 to 100 barrels. If at this production it has anything like the life of the wells in the Francis territory, it will be indeed a profitable well.

Those who do not believe any money has been made from oil in this county should recall a few figures. Many people forget that south-east of Francis there is a little field, almost hidden in the rush of things. These small wells are owned by Lee and Smith of Durant, who in the main own the fee in the land as well.

A conversation with one of the producers a few days ago revealed that they are getting approximately $1,000 a month from the production at a cost of from $100 to $150 a month, of a net amount of from $850 to $900 monthly. The wells were not expensive to drill and they have been producing for several years. Such production does not carry the glamor of big gushers, but it puts money into the pockets of the operators and that is more important.

Ed Gillette also has a well south-west of Francis from which oil has been taken for years. Thus one can see if the Bowles and Smith well can hold its own like those around Francis and those who have watched it will be as long lived or longer than the others, it will be putting money into the pockets of the owners a decade hence.

4,000 Pet Rats Supported By Thrifty Woman's Needle

GRAZ, Austria.—Rats in the garret, rats in the cellar and everywhere else in the house was what the health authorities found here when they searched the home of Fraulein Aurelin Mayer, who had been supporting some 4,000 rodents and considering them as her pets. Investigation of the Mayer house was begun because of complaints of the neighbors.

Fraulein Mayer, who took in sewing to make a living for herself and rats, told the authorities she often had scarcely enough to eat for herself, but that her rats were always amply provided with food. She gave them bread and cheese, sausage and other morsels regularly, she said, because otherwise the rats might go astray in search of things to eat and inconvenience the neighbors.

The town's rat catcher was engaged for the best part of a week in clearing the Mayer house of its rodent inhabitants, the owner meanwhile staying at the hotel. There were white rats and grey rats and dapple rats when the rat catcher began his task. All were killed and then the house was fumigated.

Queen of England Treasures Her Hundreds of Presents

LONDON.—What happens to all the mementoes and souvenirs that are presented to the queen, is a question often asked but seldom answered. The Weekly Dispatch claims to have ascertained from "some one in a responsible position," however, that these presents are not put away in a store cupboard.

This source of information added: "The queen is very proud of her collection of souvenirs, and the treasures every one of them. I do not think there is another woman in the world who takes such a keen delight in preserving her mementoes."

toes of happy and interesting occasions.

The Wembley Exhibition has swelled the queen's collection considerably, and recent additions include damask and linen, canaries, "Felix" the cat, cards, lace fans and musical instruments. The queen makes practical use of her gifts whenever possible. The damask linen presented by the Ulster Linen Trade is in constant use at Buckingham Palace.

JERUSALEM—"Land of Israel" is being favored as a name for the Holy Land instead of the official "Palestine." For the present it is in use only among Jews outside of the country writing to Palestine. In the country, Palestine is the official name used universally, except in Hebrew translations of government documents. There the Hebrew letters forming the initials of the two Hebrew words "Eretz Israel" (Land of Israel) are being used parenthetically.

The Hebrew name written in Latin characters is beginning to appear with increasing frequency on postal matter destined for Palestine.

ADA SENDS FIVE TO SUMMER TERM

Six Enrolled From County In Summer Session At Stillwater

Five students from Ada are attending the 1924 summer school at Oklahoma A. and M. college, Stillwater, says L. W. Burton, registrar, in a message to The News today. They are C. H. Castlebury, Mrs. E. O. Davis, Blair Mariah Wood, Ruth Lenore Wood and Jesse Reeser.

Pontotoc county has an enrollment of six at the college, Burton states. Besides Ada, Center is the only other Pontotoc county town represented.

Summer school enrollment at A. and M. is one-third greater than last year, it is shown by the registrar's report. Total enrollment for the entire summer term is 1,600, against 1,119 last year, both figures exclusive of all short courses.

Including short term enrollments, the total number of students last summer was 1,313. This year the number has increased to 1,700, counting students enrolled in the cotton school, a short term course which started July 1. The cotton school will continue through this month.

Among students at the summer school are nearly 1,000 teachers from all sections of Oklahoma and the southwest, an estimate by Herbert Patterson shows. Patterson is dean of the school of education and director of the summer session. Other students spent the last school year at other colleges or universities and went to Stillwater attracted by special lecturers or recreational advantages, while still others are regular students bent on making up time with their college work in the summer.

Forty-eight A. and M. students completed work for degrees at the summer session, and received them July 16. The school will close July 22.

Two thousand Oklahoma farmers and members of boys' and girls' agriculture and home economics clubs are expected to attend the annual farm congress August 19 to 23. The congress will end summer events, in preparation for start of the fall term. Registration for the next school year is to be September 4, 5, 6 and 8, and classes will begin September 9, it is announced.

Courses of study offered at the summer session number 228, given in six major schools of the college. Faculty members number 200, including 27 special lecturers, most of them superintendents of public schools at various Oklahoma cities. Castlebury and Reeser are enrolled in the school of agriculture.

Mrs. Davis is a student in the school of education. The Misses Wood are secondary students.

Lester Medlock, of Center, is enrolled in the school of engineering.

Declares Bishop of Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM.—The Bishop of Birmingham has expressed himself as disapproving because there is a decided dropping off in the number of candidates for ordination from the upperclasses. Writing to his flock in the Diocesan Magazine, he says "We are not getting the sons of our well-to-do people to come forward for ordination as we expect."

"It is true that the clergy are poorly paid," the bishop adds, "and have not great prospects of worldly advancement. But it will be said indeed if the sense of vocation does not run through England as a whole in older days it was counted a glory by our best families to give at least one boy to the ministry."

"Our young men only need to be shown," the bishop concludes, "what a splendid life of adventure for Christ the clergyman may lead in order to be stirred to the sacrifice of their lives to the evangelizing and edifying God's people."

WHEELER POINTS OUT NATION'S ILLS

Declares Fight For Law Enforcement Most Important Now

WINONA LAKE, Ind., July 18.—"The fight for law enforcement is the most important issue before the nation," said Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel and legislative superintendent for the Anti-Saloon League of America, in an address today at the conference of the World League Against Alcoholism.

"Nothing else matters," he continued, "if we confess that we cannot enforce our laws, we cease to be a nation. If law-breakers, and not law-makers control our policy, anarchy is supreme. Every foe of law and order will take new courage. It we announce to the skeptical world that we have not the courage to hold to a victorious ideal because lawless men oppose it, then any World Court ideals will not be trusted by these new nations which have discarded kings. Human progress will be turned back and the current now steadily setting toward a golden age will lose its force in a backwater. Nothing else matters so much as that the will of the majority, expressed in legal and orderly fashion, shall prevail."

"The law-abiding majority of the nation accepts the challenge of a wet minority that the Constitution cannot be and ought not to be enforced. Recent victories for law and order inspire new confidence. Both of the dominant political parties in their conventions at Cleveland and New York turned down the insistent demand for wet plank and for the first time adopted law enforcement planks, indicating their determination to defeat the wet's program of law defiance. The independent platform ignored the plea for beer."

"The last Congress defeated every effort to weaken the national enforcement code and enacted seven measures to strengthen law enforcement."

HE CARRIES ONLY WICKED BLUDGEON ON MACK'S TEAM

The critics may call Al Simmons the man who bats with one foot in the water bucket, but he is the only regular of the Athletics who is hitting .300 regularly. The failure of his mates to hit is the main reason for the Athletics' poor showing.

ican conventions endorsed the bill to put prohibition agents under civil service which passed the House by an overwhelming majority.

"The wet forces are starting their attacks on state enforcement codes. They will fail if the dry forces are awake."

"The congressional and state legislative districts are the forums for determining whether effective enforcement laws shall stand or fall. Every friends of law enforcement must register and vote. Failure at this point means non-enforceable laws and increased lawlessness. We are fighting the greatest known evil of modern times and winning the greatest moral victory ever achieved by a self governing people."

"The best manhood of the world is watching us. We are encompassed with a cloud of witnesses. If we fail, then the world will abandon hope for prohibition. We are equipped for this fight as is no other nation. We have every strategic advantage. Our foe is waging only a guerilla warfare. We hold every entrenched post. There is no failure except by surrender. Stimulated by our example, other people are tentatively opening the fight against the liquor forces of their nations. Where we lead, they follow. We can lead the world to an age where drunkenness is as strange as human slavery. If we only have faith and courage. We will lead the world into the deepest bondage to the brewery barons and the lords of drink if we flinch. The United States is the hope of the age. We must, we can, we will win."

MARIE PREVOST AND MONTE BLUE IN WARNER FILM

With a distinguished cast made up of Marie Prevost, Florence Vidor, Monte Blue, Harry Myers, Adolphe Menjou and Creighton Hale, "The Marriage Circle," which comes to the McSwain theatre today has already created a furore in other cities where it played. It is an Ernst Lubitsch production, dealing with a mad mixup in modern matrimony. It is hailed as a distinct departure from all previous photoplays bearing the famous Lubitsch stamp. For the first time in his cinematic career as producer and director, Lubitsch has made a thorough study of American people's psychology and the pictures they best like, and his aim in producing "The Marriage Circle" was to make a picture that would have a general American significance, dealing as it does with a situation very typical of a percentage of marriage in the United States.

SLEEPING ON RAILWAY TRACKS INTERRUPTS TRAFFIC IN KOREA
SEOUL.—Korean unfamiliarity with railways, resulting in frequent accidents and obstruction of traffic, has been a source of worry for the authorities of the Japanese built and owned Chosen Railways. A campaign of propaganda to teach the Koreans not to walk or sleep on the tracks has been started. The railway authorities estimate that at least 50 trains a year are obliged to stop because Koreans on the track do not heed the warning whistles. There have been instances in which Koreans, particularly on hot summer nights, have slept on the tracks, using the rails for pillows, with fatal results. In some cases, friends of the victims have charged the railway with responsibility and have destroyed sections of track in revenge.

WOMEN NOT BARRED FROM ACTIVITIES

One Woman Enrolled in A-M Summer Cotton School This Year

STILLWATER, Okla., July 15.—Modern women are not to be barred from any of the fields of men's activities, says the one woman enrolled in the summer cotton school at the Oklahoma A. and M. college.

She is Mrs. O. G. Douglas of Hobart. Her husband is district manager for a cotton firm, and when he came to the school she accompanied him. She says she intends to prepare for an examination for a certificate as an "expert cotton classifier."

Glen Briggs, director of the cotton school, an annual event at A. and M. college, says Mrs. Douglas is not the first woman who has taken the course.

"We have had just one woman each of the past four or five years," Briggs said. "We have become so accustomed to it that we would miss not having one at least. The way Mrs. Douglas is studying I see no reason why she might not pass her examination."

The largest cotton mill west of the Mississippi river, located at Sand Springs has two representatives at the school. They are Lafayette Jones, head buyer and an assistant buyer. In a lecture to students taking the course, Jones said that the Sand Springs mill is one of the few in the country that make finished sheets and pillow cases out of raw cotton.

In order to make a federal examination more difficult for those who will take them at the end of the course they will be held in Oklahoma City instead of at college, so the students will work under different conditions than those under which they have studied, Briggs announced today. Plans had been made to give the examinations here, the first time they are to be given to more than one student at a time in Oklahoma.

Carl Williams, editor of the Oklahoma City Farmer-Stockman, lectured to cotton students here today. C. F. Mitchell, federal government cotton classifier at Dallas, Texas, was a lecturer this week. Seventy-one students attended classes this week.

Hunters of Big Game Spend Freely for Alaskan Trophies

(By the Associated Press)
CORDOVA, Alaska.—Hunting trips in Alaska by non-residents of the Territory cost from $400 to $7,100, according to Ernest P. Walker, head of the Biological Survey for Alaska, who has received answers from questionnaires sent 44 outside sportsmen making a total of 52 trips.

"The total amount spent for the fifty-two hunting trips was $107,587.50," stated Mr. Walker. "Of this, $5,000 was for licenses and export fees, and the remainder for guides, outfits, transportation, curios and incidentals. The average trip cost $2,000. Three hundred and twelve game animals were taken at an average cost of $328.79 per animal. The least expensive trip cost $400 and the highest was $7,100. Scientific explorations and photographic expeditions were not included in the returns."

Hotels Organize Dry Force

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Hotels and restaurants of Los Angeles have organized their own prohibition law enforcement bureau. Charles F. Galling, former agent in charge of federal prohibition enforcement for Southern California, has been retained by a group of the leading hotels and cafes of the city and nearby points to direct the work. The plan, endorsed by State Prohibition Director S. F. Rutter, is to prevent employes of hotels and cafes from bootlegging.

Classes for German Youths

The society aims to acquaint the growing generation with master-works of German culture. This year's program includes Schiller's "Wallenstein" trilogy, Goethe's "Egmont," "Meistersinger." This year 6,000 young people applied for permission to witness the plays.

SNEED URGES WORK ON SONS OF CONFEDERACY

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 18.—Sons of the South who marched under the Stars and Bars more than half a century ago must prepare for the time when the last of the Confederate veterans have gone to the "final bixouac" and the Confederate Veterans of America must be continued as a sons' organization, declares Col. R. A. Sneed recently elected state commander of the C. V. of A.

It is Colonel Sneed's plan to let sons of veterans become members as their fathers die, and when the last of the Confederates has passed the organization would continue to function under the direction of the second generation of members. He presented the plan to the executive committee of the veterans last month at the national reunion at Memphis, but leaders declared it was too soon to think of such action. He will again advocate the plan at the Dallas reunion next year, he said.

"The younger group of veterans are all more than 75 years of age and the majority of members of the confederacy are well into their 80's," Colonel Sneed said. "Life is in its last chapter for the most of us and each year the ranks of the gray are reduced. I believe the time is propitious for replacing lost members and I can see no better way than letting sons of dead members fill the places of their fathers. There are some who would have the organization die with the last of the Confederates, but the spirit must go on. Our sons are the ones to carry it forward. I shall urge my plan before the state department and take it before the national reunion at Dallas next year."

Remote Alaskan Subscribers Get Newspapers by Airplane

(By the Associated Press)
FAIRBANKS, Alaska.—Subscribers for the Fairbanks News-Miner-Citizen who live in lonely cabins, roadhouses and isolated camps within a hundred-mile radius of the town have their papers delivered by airplane a few hours after publication, the newspaper announces.

The paper has contracted with an airplane company for this service. The aviators attach the papers to small parachutes and they drift down somewhere near the habitation of the subscriber.

This method is saving weeks for the readers. The old methods was to send accumulated issues by dog teams once a month.

In the knowledge which relates to conduct, that teaches us to value all things at their worth, to be modest in prosperity or adversity, equal minded at all times, to tell the truth, and above all to live a clean moral life which would be a commendable standard for the youth of our country, who are watching our lives, Pope was a very wise man; he said, "An honest man is the noblest work of God." And a wiser man than he said, "Virtue is far above the price of rubies."

A GOOD LAXATIVE

Black-Draught Recommended by an Illinois Lady, Who Says It Helps Her.—"Fine for the Liver."

St. Elmo, Ill.—"I have used Black-Draught for three years," says Mrs. J. W. Boyd, a well-known member of this community. "I was visiting a friend who had used it for some time. I was in need of a laxative and I had a burning in my stomach. I was constipated. She gave me a dose of Black-Draught and it helped me, so I used it from then on. It certainly benefited me. I think it is fine for the liver, too. I am glad to recommend it. "One day our pastor was visiting us, and he said his system seemed clogged and asked me to give him something to take. I gave him Black-Draught. He was much pleased with the results and bought a package, himself."

Constipation forces the system to absorb poisons that should be thrown out, causing pain, discomfort and tending to undermine your health. Black-Draught helps to relieve this condition by acting on the bowels, and by regulating the liver when it is torpid, thus helping to drive out many poisons in an easy, natural way.

Don't take chances! At the first indication of constipation, take Black-Draught. Costs only a cent a dose. Your local druggist, or dealer, sells Black-Draught. NC-153

Homes Characterize Democratic Nominee

(By Margery Pickard)

NEW YORK, July 17.—The home like the apparel, oft proclaims the man. It is true in John W. Davis' case. You know a lot about the Democratic candidate for presidency after you have seen his old home at Clarksburg, W. Va., and his country place at Locust Valley, L. I. They're much alike.

Clarksburgers point with pride to the home of "Joanny" Davis. Great, sweeping lawns surround the house, the lawns dotted with old-fashioned flower gardens, that just now are a riot of mid-summer blooms, hollyhocks, roses, daisies, tiger-lilies, brilliantly-hued dragon plants, marigolds and sweet William. Over the windows festoons of wisteria and crimson ramblers spread their gorgeous blossoms.

It is stately, impressive, typical of the nature, one might say, of those who have lived within. It represents perfectly the southern home, beautiful, imposing and attractive.

Shade trees of six or seven varieties cast a shadow about the house that once dispels the summer heat. The green shutters are thrown wide, the windows screened are wide open.

Built by Father.—The home stands today, just as it did when first built and occupied by "Squire John" the father of the presidential nominee. The exterior, other than the growth of the trees and flowers is the same, the interior, the furnishings and hangings are all the same.

Mrs. John J. Davis, the mother of the candidate, was a Miss Kennedy, a member of a prominent Baltimore family, and she brought to the little West Virginia town when "Squire John" returned with his bride, the accomplishments and poise that a life in the larger city had given her. She was a brilliantly educated woman, well-read, and excellent horsewoman and of aristocratic lineage. The home that she established bears proof of her character.

Like all old mansions of its days the ceilings are extremely high, and each room has its fireplace and deep window recesses. The room occupied by the Democratic nominee is on the second floor and faces the front of the mansion, one great, vine-covered window looking upon the side grounds. The furnishings are a heavy four-poster bed, old-fashioned dresser, desk, two stiff chairs, a leather-cushioned rocker and a small table are all of mahogany. The walls are papered in a deep blue and white paper, while heavy blue overdrapes cover filmy white curtains at the windows.

Loves Beans, All Kinds.—The Davis home on Long Island, where his New York law practice keeps him a great deal of the time, is a six acre estate. You hear the honey barking of a dog. The surroundings of the West Virginia home have exerted this heavy influence upon it. The house is surrounded by a wealth of the same old-fashioned flowers that bloom around "the old homestead," sweet peas, roses, dahlias, morning glories, larkspur, asters, pansies, Canterbury Bells, lilies, hollyhocks.

There is a vegetable garden, too. The Democratic candidate's preferences for the products of the vegetable garden are as simple and close to the soil as his fondness for flowers. He likes most lima beans, string beans and corn. In addition there is celery, beets, lettuce, carrots, turnips, etc. Cabbage is the only name missing from the long list.

Mr. Davis goes for his golf and his horseback rides to the Piping Rock Club, two miles away.

Feeling of Permancy from Appointment of Buchanan

NORMAN, July 17.—With the appointment, June 3 of Dr. J. S. Buchanan as permanent president of the University of Oklahoma, a feeling of security, permanency which the faculty has not felt since the resignation of Dr. S. D. Brooks as president in August, 1923, resulted. Expression of congratulations from prominent men of Oklahoma to both President Buchanan and the university have been coming to Norman daily since the appointment of the permanent president.

The selection of Dr. Buchanan as president came in recognition of the long years of service he has given the university as an educator and the state of Oklahoma as leading citizen. Dr. Buchanan came to Oklahoma as instructor in 1896. In 1907 he was a member of the constitutional convention in 1919 he was appointed dean of the college of arts and sciences which position he held until he was appointed acting president in August 1923 and in June he was appointed permanent president.

NEWSNOTES FROM MOVIELAND

Mack Sennett has been searching for months to find the typical American boy. His search ended when he picked Ralph Graves, stalwart son of the screen. It is singular that Sennett's choice should have fallen on the same man who if our memory serves us—was chosen by D. W. Griffith as the typical English type, and featured in "Dream Street." This speaks well for the versatility of Ralph's countenance.

Sennett's search for the genus puer Americanus was prompted by a desire to make a series of photo plays depicting the heart and soul of young America, and bye and bye, the Keystone impressario let it be known that his ideas on this subject do not coincide with those of the F. Scott Fitzgerald school of fiction.

Ralph Graves comes from that state whose sons generally achieve fame in the legislative halls of our country—Ohio. He was born in Cleveland. He grew up to his six feet one inch in that middle west city. He played the lead in Maurice Tourneur's "Sporting Life," and then was taken under Griffith's directorial wing in "The Greatest Question," "Scarlet Days," and "Dream Street." He has also been seen in pictures for Goldwyn and First National.

The two first photoplays of the Sennett series of 12 two-reelers have been completed. The titles are "East of the Water Plug," and "Little Robinson Corkscrew."

October will see the culmination of two screen romances. In that month we hear that James Cruze, the popular director of "The Covered Wagon," and Betty Compson will be united in the holy bonds of matrimony, and Marie Prevost and Kenneth Harlan will likewise become one in the eyes of the law.

It looks as if Mae Marsh is lost to our screen forever. She was in Europe making pictures for some years, was then persuaded to return and make two pictures, "The White Rose" and "Daddies." She could not complain of her reception, which was warm, but some months ago she again went abroad—to Berlin this time—and threatens to make her home there.

Thos. H. Ince annotates his choice of Florence Vidor for the name part in "Christine of the Hungry Heart," Kathleen Norris' novel which is to be screened. After seeing Florence in "Barbara Frietche," Mr. Ince decided that she was just the one to play "Christine," as his idea of the character is "more than a woman of beauty and charm. She must visualize a woman of utmost refinement of feeling but who is swept by heart hunger into emotional crises of the most intense sort."

Percy Marmont has been cast for the part of "Dr. Nye" in the screen adaptation of Joseph Lincoln's popular novel.

We are so used to recording names of screen celebrities who are to appear in pictures that we get quite a novel sensation in stating that Theodore Roberts, who was to have taken a part in Cecil DeMille's "Feet of Clay," will not appear in it. While he has recovered from his serious illness, both Mr. DeMille

COLLEGE NOTES

College Alumni Banquet.

The College Alumni is giving a banquet at the Harris Hotel tonight at 7:30 in honor to the summer degree class. This entertainment is to be one of the most elaborate of the session and all of those who have the opportunity are planning to attend.

The main address of the evening will be delivered by Prof. R. S. Newcomb. He will discuss the benefits of the association together with its relation to the college. Others who are expected to deliver messages of great interest are J. O. Vernon, Moss Wimblish and Mrs. Lever.

There will be a few minutes devoted to a business session fostering homecoming time which is to be Oct. 30 and 31. The homecoming events will be held in connection with the teachers association. A football game with Tahlequah State Teachers College is also scheduled for this date. Members of the degree class are all confident that the evening will be a very enjoyable one which will bring fond remembrances for many years to come.

Virgil Durham, former student of the College, is spending a few days with friends in this city.

The 9 o'clock assembly this morning was attended by more students and visitors than any other during the summer term. The faculty especially expresses its appreciation for the interest manifested by the large attendance. The program also proved to be one of great interest and was appreciated by all those who attended.

Mr. John Hefley, superintendent of the Henryetta schools, will leave here July 24 for Chicago where he will spend the month of August in the University of Chicago.

Mr. F. G. Faust, superintendent of the Shawnee schools, will also spend the month of August in the Chicago university.

Miss Anna Weaver Jones, head of the physical culture department at the College, will spend the summer in attendance at Peabody College.

Egyptian Bob Latest Flop of Hair Style

OKLAHOMA CITY.—"We have with us today the famous Egyptian bob—ladies—and gentlemen. It's a throwback from King Tut, a relic of the dark ages—the dark ages ladies and gentlemen when Cleopatra lost her sandals, and a good lover, all for an Egyptian bob Marc Antony—and mark my words well, confessed two minutes before his eyes shut in the sphinx like solitude of death that Cleo's bob was de- cately responsible—ladies and gentlemen for his death."

Straight from the sands of the Pharaohs to Oklahoma City came this bob as described by a circus speller. It is a "sway-back" bob without the sway, a "shingle" bob without the wood, and a "ponjola" bob without the "hoe's."

It has the verve of the Nile in its cut. It speaks of Nubian slaves, and palm leaf fans. But it is here—and here to stay the barbers say.

While poor man looks on in horror at the treacherous age—and wonders what will come next.
